

Teacher's Pen

CHILDREN ARE POOR MEN'S RICHES

Teach your children to be kind, compassionate and generous, smart and fashionable. Teach them to love unconditionally and respect elders. Teach them to appreciate the goodness in every being.

Teach them never to lie. Teach them that they are blessed to be born to you and that many parents are unable to guide their children in the right direction.

Teach them that enjoyment in life is good but not at another's expense. Teach them that books are an ocean of knowledge, which will help them to shape and mould their lives rightly.

Teach them to be humble and sweet, noble and kind.

When you set high standards and goals for yourself, be sure that you will definitely reach somewhere close to it. Do not think small of your children. Give them your love, time and affection. You are blessed to be parents, so go ahead and raise beautiful children.

TAJINDER KAUR, TGT Punjabi, Shivalik Public School, Phase 6, Mohali

